

A/V Requirements/Room Layout

Because of Bill's dynamic presentation, he has specific A/V requirements. He uses a multi-media approach to his speaking style which includes audio, video, still graphics, and a short piano performance. The following list of items is required but if logistics allow, Bill can bring some of them with him.

- Lapel style wireless microphone.
- Projector screen(s). One screen, preferably front and center. If a larger room, two screens in front.
- Digital projection system with audio capability. Bill brings his own laptop computer as a data source.
- Piano. (Yes, he even has a piano he can bring if logistics allow.)

Bill prefers a theater style seating arrangement. If the room is rather large, a raised speaking platform is helpful. Other arrangements can work but are less effective.

Please contact Bill's office for a more detailed discussion of the above requirements. He is flexible.
